

Supporting individuals susceptible to being drawn into violent extremism

We aim to support those who are at risk of being drawn into violent extremism by using existing partnership working between the police, local authorities, statutory partners and the local community across Devon, Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly.

“ If I have a concern, who can I speak to? ”

Cornwall Council

Single Point Of Contact (SPOC):
Steve Rowell

07980 895104

Jane Barlow

01209 614322

Police

Urgent

999

Non-urgent

101

Or in person at a police station
or to a police officer / PCSO

Anti-terrorist hotline

Confidential

0800 789 321

Crimestoppers

0800 555 111

(Independent charity operating a hotline and www.crimestoppers-uk.org
for the public to give information about crime
anonymously)

- Appropriate support processes can then be established by multi-agency partners resulting in a considered, balanced and proportionate response that ensures the most appropriate level of support is provided.
- There is no single profile of a person likely to be involved in terrorism or violent extremism. However, experience has shown that there can be early warning signs most likely to be identified by family, friends and professionals which are indicative of the need for support.
- The earlier we can identify and provide appropriate support, the more effective this support is likely to be.
- You can be reassured that any information received will be handled sensitively and treated in the strictest of confidence.
- *Where SPOC exists and in line with any internal risk management and information sharing processes.

Devon & Cornwall Police
Building safer communities together

Supporting individuals susceptible to being drawn into violent extremism

We aim to support those who are at risk of being drawn into violent extremism by using existing partnership working between the police, local authorities, statutory partners and the local community across Devon, Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly.

“ If I have a concern, who can I speak to? ”

Cornwall Council

Single Point Of Contact (SPOC):
Steve Rowell

07980 895104

Jane Barlow

01209 614322

Police

Urgent

999

Non-urgent

101

Or in person at a police station
or to a police officer / PCSO

Anti-terrorist hotline

Confidential

0800 789 321

Crimestoppers

0800 555 111

(Independent charity operating a hotline and
www.crimestoppers-uk.org
for the public to give
information about crime
anonymously)

- Appropriate support processes can then be established by multi-agency partners resulting in a considered, balanced and proportionate response that ensures the most appropriate level of support is provided.
- There is no single profile of a person likely to be involved in terrorism or violent extremism. However, experience has shown that there can be early warning signs most likely to be identified by family, friends and professionals which are indicative of the need for support.
- The earlier we can identify and provide appropriate support, the more effective this support is likely to be.
- You can be reassured that any information received will be handled sensitively and treated in the strictest of confidence.
- *Where SPOC exists and in line with any internal risk management and information sharing processes.

Devon & Cornwall Police
Building safer communities together